Is your community interested in initiating or supporting sustainable practices?

West Shore Fact is hosting a gathering of west side communities to share ideas, network, and to learn about sustainable living on a local level.

Cuyahoga County Office of Sustainability is offering a tool kit to support these areas: air quality, energy, food, historic preservation, land use, solid waste, transportation, recycling, trees, land, and watershed management.

Communities will share information about their initiatives in watershed protection, community tree planting, community gardens, expanded cycling opportunities, recycling, building efficiency, and other environmental enhancement projects.

Everyone interested in creating a more sustainable community is welcome at this meeting.
